- 1st El Enemigo Gran Enemigo Gualtallary 2013 – 100 points. First place to Argentina! This Malbec/Cabernet Franc beauty is the cheapest 100 point wine in the world. WA critic Luis Gutiérrez said it reminded him of Pomorol's Lafleur and was "definitely world class" and "worth laying down". The WA score is backed up by a 99 from James Suckling. Surely future vintages of this wine won't be as cheap? Drink to 2030 means this is a serious collection / investment wine. A steal at SG$1,205 (6x75cl). Only 3,000 bottles produced. A future Screaming Eagle? SG$1,205 (6x75cl).
- 2nd Guigal Condrieu La Doriane 2010 – 100 points. A serious white wine from the Rhône Valley. This Guigal (one of the famous 'La Las'), this was summed by Jeb Dunnuck in 2016 as follows: "the finest Condrieu I've ever tasted is unquestionably the 2010 Condrieu la Doriane." He said: "Viognier just doesn't get any better". Condrieu is an exclusively white (Viognier) appellation at the northern end of the Rhône Valley. Fans argue its white wines rival best of Burgundy (although very different). One to drink now. SG$1,310 (6x75cl).
- 3rd Fontodi Flaccianello della Pieve 2016 – 100 points. What an incredible rise for Fontodi's flagship Sangiovese wine. This Tuscan "masterpiece" stunned the wine world with no less than two 100 point scores (Wine Advocate and Vinous) in 2019. Monica Learner (WA) said was better than Masseto in the blind tasting! And Antonio Galloni said it was "off the charts". It instantly sold out and then doubled in price on release, but still looks a bargain give a double 100 score and a drinking life until 2050. Only 65,000 bottles made. Still undervalued. SG$1,360 (6x75cl).
- 4th Torbreck RunRig 2016 – 100 points. This Barossa favourite is the second 100 point scoring RunRig (after the 2010). Not for the feint-hearted, this massively structured Shiraz sold out on initial release and is now hard to find on the secondary market. WA's Joe Czerwinski described this as "a complete masterpiece". It is A blend of 98% Shiraz and 2% Viognier. Much cheaper than the 2010. Low production with great aging potential for several decades. Very undervalued versus other New World greats. SG$1,425 (6x75cl).

- 5th Pontet Canet 2009 – 100 points. What can we say about Pontet Canet 2009, except 'why is still so cheap'? (the average 100 point WA wine today is SG$6,263 for 6x75cl). As Pontet Canet 2009 hits its 10 year anniversary we expect curious holders to start popping corks and then looking to re-load. WA's Lisa Perrotti-Brown noted that this wine is "charged with incredible energy" and will last to 2065. And she concluded: "It finishes with an incredible display of epically long-lasting flavor fireworks. Wow!" Definitely getting harder to buy now. The whole estate has been biodynamic for years, which only adds to its appeal in this environmentally conscious age. Seriously undervalued versus other 100 point 2009 Bordeaux. SG$1,445 (6x75cl).
- 6th Pontet Canet 2010 – 100 points. The back to back 100 scores for Pontet Canet in 2009 and 2010 catapulted Alfred Tesseron's biodynamic Pauillac estate to world fame. This was scored 100 by Robert Parker himself, and he called the wine "amazing" with "off-the-charts massiveness and intensity". He asserted that it was a 50-75 year wine. How can any collection not include this at this price level? As the secondary market starts to get drained of both the perfect Pontets we expect them to get squeezed higher in price. You have been warned! SG$1,445 (6x75cl).
- 7th Cos d'Estournel 2016 – 100 points. This wine received its 100 point WA score from Lisa Perrotti-Brown in Sept. 2018. She praised its "epic length" and concluded that it was "Just. Magic". It has moved up in price recently, but our table shows just how undervalued it still is, for a wine that will be drinking (perfectly) until 2068. This wine needs to be every serious collection, and we urge collectors who don't own it to grab at least a 6 pack any which way they can. This is going to be wine people are talking about in 30/40 years' time. SG$1,560 (6x75cl).
- 8th Diamond Creek Gravelly Meadow 2016 – 100 points. This is a new edition to our list, as we haven't been able to source it before. This Cabernet dominated Bordeaux blend was only just (Sept. 2019) scored 100 by Lisa Perrotti-Brown who calls it "gorgeous" with "explosive energy" and gives it a life until 2060. Founded in 1968, Diamond Creek was California's first exclusively Cabernet Sauvignon Estate Vineyard. The wine comes from the tiny 5 acre 'Gravelly Meadows' vineyard. This is the first 100 point score achieved by this vineyard. Very little available on the secondary market. SG$1,620 (6x75cl).
- 9th Spottswoode Cabernet Sauvignon 2016 – 100 points. This was scored 100 points by WA only in Oct. 2018. This is another new wine for us from Napa Valley. Spottswoode is a family-owned historic vineyard renowned for its exceptional Cabernet Sauvignon. Established in 1882 by George Schonewald, it is situated on the western edge of St. Helena at the foot of the Mayacamas mountains. This Cabernet dominated Bordeaux blend, this wine has a drinking window to 2060. Next to Screaming Eagle, Harlan Estates etc. this is stunning value. A real find. SG$1,685 (6x75cl).
- 10th Clarendon Hills Astralis 2010 – Completing the Top 10 cheapest 100 point wines is Clarendon Hills Astralis 2010. This is one of Australia's most celebrated wines, right up there with Penfolds Grange and Henschke Hill of Grace. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, when scoring this 100 points in 2014, called it simply "extraordinary wine". Still undervalued versus Grange and Hill of Grace, which more than a decade of aging potential ahead of it. This is another 'must own' New World classic wine. Great value given the near decade of aging. SG$1,710 (6x75cl).
